Local Rustlings.
Dolores camp is improving.
John Welch will start a saloon at the coal banks.
Many Cerrillos and San Pedro people will attend the fair.
The warm weather continues. It is about time for a change.
Large lots of new goods in all lines, just in at the Cerrillos Supply Co's.
Supervisor Neis, with proper help, will put all the roads in good shape.
New stock of Paints and Kalsomine at the Cerrillos Supply Co's store.
An immense amount of New Mexico fruit will be marketed this month.
Weddings will begin to come thick and fast, as the weather grows colder.
The 15th of the month now appears to be general pay-day with all of the mines.
The coal shipments are gaining steadily, every week thickening up the wagons and cars.
A grand ball will be given at the casa de Mike Montoya, on the evening of Sept 20th.

There is talk of an extra train service on the A. T. & S. F. during fair week to Albuquerque.
Invitations are out to a reception by Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Gould, at the Palace Hotel, Saturday, Sept. 12, at 8 o'clock.
Hon. E. A. Fiske and wife, of Santa Fe, are receiving the congratulations of their friends on the birth to them of a son.

The capture of ducks and jack snipe in considerable numbers, is already being reported from the lakes along the lower Rio Grande.

The Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, meets at Albuquerque on next Tuesday. Cerrillos lodge will be represented by Hon. C. F. Easey and C. A. Whited.

Geo. L. Wylls says in view of the threatened marriage epidemic, an extra large order has been sent in for those pretty, canopy-topped carriages. The kind you push around by hand.

The military will be at the Fair. The big parade and Flambeau club will be leading attractions. The Mojave Indians will be there to play "Shinny"—the Navajo Indian women will be in the main building weaving their beautiful blankets, while the Pueblo women will be outside cooking the lowly tortilla.

The RUSTLER will issue a special edition on or about October 16th. It will be brim-full of matter intended to benefit—in the true sense of the word—Santa Fe county and New Mexico.

Geo. Green returned from the Jemez Tuesday night, where he had spent another week looking for the lost horse. He reports a hard trip and an entire failure to discover even a trace of the animal.

D. J. Jones, A. Ready, Cerrillos; Hon. H. B. Ferguson, Albuquerque; J. W. Harkness, Harkness, New York; J. Jaycope, San Pedro, N. M., are subscribers to the RUSTLER this week.

Brakeman W. H. Mellinger got his hand caught between the bumpers, in the Cerrillos yards Tuesday, losing one finger and part of another. Dr. Palmer dressed the hand and he proceeded to Las Vegas that night.

The Grand Central has again opened its doors for the patronage of the public. Mr. Uptegrove has refitted the house and is now better than ever prepared to give first-class accommodations. The patronage of the public is invited.

Cerrillos should have a graded school or an Academy. Many people who have families would bring them here if there were good schools. Our present school facilities will be taxed to their utmost this winter to accommodate the scholarship.

"Is there nothing about me that you could like a little," said a Cerrillos young man to his girl. "Yes," she replied, "there is one thing about you that would always give me great pleasure. 'What is that?' he asked. 'Your absence,'" was the reply.

On September 20-21 and 22 the first annual tournament of the Albuquerque Gun Club will be held—open to all—no one barred. Over $500 in cash and prizes to shoot for. Arrangements have been made with the Railroads to extend the time of tickets for shooters until Sept 25. This is exciting great interest and promises to draw largely.

There are a number of good rules by which social and business life may be made pleasant. Persistent courtesy in business relations and a little attention to other's interests while looking after your own, always smooths the pathway to good feeling and harmony. In social life simply look to other's enjoyment as well as your own.

The board of town trustees held another meeting last night, passing a number of additional ordinances. Provisions have been made for cleaning and repairing streets and for licensing peddlers, shows and saloons. At the meeting last night Dr. Richards was appointed treasurer. It appears that the statement made in last week's RUSTLER to the effect that Mr. Kennedy had been appointed, was an error.

For the entire length of the coal siding, slack coal has accumulated to a depth of from one to two feet. This deposit is the droppings and liftings from the wagons that has been accumulating for years. The wagons driving through, keep it ground to powder, and it has got to be a hard pull for the teams. The railroad company receive for coal loaded on this side track, freight to the amount of from $150,000 to $200,000 a year, and should surely be willing to remove this slack and keep the track in good condition, so that the teamsters would have no trouble in getting up to the cars to unload. Besides the disadvantages to the teamsters, this slack is running over one side of toe track, threatening to derail cars and hazard the lives of railroad men when coupling.

Dan Taylor desires to ask those who have subscribed to the fund to employ council to look after the Canon del Agua suit to be ready with the money by the 14th or 15, as it has to be forwarded on the 17th. He also states that the solicitors lack a little yet of having the $500 subscribed, and requests all to do their best in helping to carry out this most important matter.

Mr. Thos. Kiddie, formerly smelter superintendent at San Pedro but for the past year at Alma, Colorado, has been making his old camp a visit during the past week. On his return Tuesday he made the RUSTLER a pleasant call, in company with Hon. Richard Giblein, of the copper camp. Mr. Kiddie still has property interests at San Pedro, some of which he has consolidated in the newly organized company with Raunheim, Webb and others, on this side of the mountain. No more popular man than Mr. Kiddie has ever lived in this part of the country, and it is hoped the future may call him back among us. In speaking of the present working of the copper plant Mr. Kiddie said: "I think it is working excellently in every way, and I can but believe there is now a nice future before San Pedro."

Matrimonial.
"There came up from Cerrillos, this morning, Miss Cordelia Rogers and Wm. Gould, who will be united in marriage, this evening at 8 o'clock, at the residence of Rev. A. A. Layton, who will perform the ceremony. Miss Rogers attended school in this city, last year, making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Layton, and graduating from the Seminary, in June. She is one of New Mexico's most beautiful and accomplished daughters, amiable and industrious, at home alike in the domestic or ornamental departments of life. Mr. Gould is a prominent business man of Cerrillos; and the friends of each of the high contracting parties are loud in their congratulations of the other, on making so wise a selection of a life partner."—Las Vegas Optic, Tuesday, Sept 8th.

The foregoing was the preamble. The resolutions, by-laws, contracts, etc., were duly entered into according to said preamble, and the affidavit signed, sealed and delivered by Rev. Layton, at the time, place, and in the manner aforesaid.

But there were many little pleasant things on the side:

Miss Rogers completed her school course at the Las Vegas Seminary where she graduated with highest honors. Her many friends did their best to prove their interest and remembrance on this especial occasion. The bridal party and surroundings were profusely decorated with flowers, making it a veritable bridal bower. After the ceremony the happy couple were congratulated by their many friends, which process was repeated on their arrival home Wednesday night. The RUSTLER acknowledges a call from the married couple on Thursday morning, and although the fragrance of button-hole bouquets bursting suddenly on the somewhat stagnant atmosphere of our sanctuary caused the devil to drop a gallery of type he was moving, order was resumed, the ceremony of congratulation performed in the best of style, and arrangements completed to get out the paper on time. At present the bridal couple are occupying rooms at the Palace Hotel.

Mr. Gould is one of the best and most reliable of our young business men, and there is no reason in this case, that marriage should prove a failure.

The Exchange Hotel, Santa Fe is the only conveniently located hotel to the business part of the city Southeast corner of Plaza.—First-class accommodations, and reasonable rates. John T. Foshee, proprietor.

Personal Rustlings.

Miss Lucy Wadley is visiting at San Pedro.

Flavel Simonson contemplates a trip to Chicago.

G. W. North has gone on a visit to Clinton, Mo.

Mrs. R. Green is somewhat improving in health.

W. B. Tipton made a trip to San Pedro Thursday.

W. W. Miller was a visitor to Santa Fe, Tuesday.

Mrs. C. Doyle is visiting relatives and friends at her old home in Nebraska.

Mr. F. H. Strong, one of Dolores' mining men, has returned from the East.

Sam Sing, of Cerrillos, has filed his application to become a citizen of the United States.

Mr. J. M. Evans came over Tuesday evening from San Pedro, returning Wednesday.

James Lucas, C. A. Whited and Charles Sylvester, were visitors to Albuquerque, Monday.

Judge D. D. Harkness will attend the railroad convention at Albuquerque, as a delegate.

Miss Smith of Santa Fe, has been employed to teach the Mexican school, to begin next Monday.

Mrs. U. C. North and children intend going to Kansas the first of next month, where her parents and family live.

Mrs. M. L. Hurt has accepted a position in the grammar department, at the University of New Mexico, Santa Fe.

Rev. J. M. Crutchfield and family departed for Pecos City, Texas, Tuesday night. Dr. Sanders goes to Alpine, instead of Rev. Crutchfield as, stated in the associated press report.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Laudenslager returned from their extended visit to their old home, La Fayette, Indiana, last Sunday night. Mrs. L. has fully recovered from her severe illness while there.

Mr. E. L. Griggs, who is to teach the Cerrillos public school this winter, arrived from Missouri last Saturday. On Tuesday he went to Santa Fe and passed satisfactory examination. As the school has been delayed on account of the furniture ordered not arriving on time, he has been given a little time to become acquainted with the pupils and to class them for books.

San Pedro Rustlings.

Manager McLaughlin made a trip to Albuquerque during the week.

Carruthers and Ford have struck a small vein of very rich looking galena ore in the Accident mining claim.

Our public school opens Monday, under the management of Mrs. Skaggs, who comes well recommended from Santa Fe.

M. Horton, the former Jehu on the stage line, makes a good-looking and accommodating clerk at the new Weed company store.

Thos. Kiddie, of Alma, Colorado, our former smelter manager, made the camp a brief but pleasant visit this week, returning Wednesday for his home.

Our business men are unanimous in their praise of the courteous treatment received at the Cerrillos Railroad office from the new agent, Mr. Harney and his assistants.

Kim Ki, the former "Duke of the Jornada del Muerte," is getting his hand in assisting manager Strunquist in arranging the stock for the new company store.

The proposition made by Mr. Raunheim for working the new copper district has not been accepted as yet, although it seems a very fair proposition to all concerned.

A select ice cream party given by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Deboon, was one of the principal social events of the week. Every one who attended reports it a most enjoyable affair.

Mrs. S. C. White, of San Pedro, is not improving from her malady, we are sorry to state. Stricken down in robust health by paralysis, her case is so sad as to enlist the heartfelt sympathy of all.

Notes and Comment.

A recent prominent newspaper heading read: "Politics and Crime." The two are often, very often, closely allied.

Col. R. W. Webb has been in Albuquerque—has been interviewed by the newspaper men, and has spoken very favorably of San Pedro's outlook.

Max Fwost has been appointed county commissioner, vice Chas. M. Conklin, vice Chas. M. Creamer, vice—no, that's all. Wonder what the "Col." is in the line of promotion for?

Frank Chavez, the old sheriff of this county, has resigned and Charles Conklin has been appointed by the board of county commissioners to fill the vacancy. It is said by authorities, that he is behind in his accounts some $33,000. On this question considerable has been said, but all in a mild form, as Mr. Chavez has ranked high in many respects as an officer. His downfall has been anticipated even by many of his friends, yet no one attributes it to intentional dishonesty. In a word, Frank Chavez has always been his own worst enemy, allowing himself, his money and possibly funds at his disposal, to be used as freely as water by his friends, personal and political. As is invariably the case he is now suffering the penalty, and these same personal and political friends will probably not hesitate to administer the usual kick to their champion when he is finally knocked out. This paper has no apology to offer for Mr. Chavez' bad business management, nor does it assume the function to condemn. The matter is likely to lead to one good step in county matters, however, the separation of the office of sheriff and collector. They do not belong together and should not be held in common.
